BEEN NO ARRESTS

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC TRAIN ROBBERS ARE STILL AT LARGE.

CLEWS RUN DOWN BUT NO RESULT

An Improbable Story About Alleged Sweetheart of One of the Robbers Giving the Police a Tip—May Be Arrests Today.

St. Louis, Jan. 24.—The search for the men who held up and robbed Missouri Pacific train No. 8 near Eureka, Mo., Friday night, so far has been fruitless.

The total reward of $7,200 has caused many amateur sleuths to search for the men.

Fruitless "Tips," "Crews," Etc.

The St. Louis Republic of Monday morning had the following in regard to the Missouri Pacific hold-up of Friday night:

C. O. Eames, chief of special agents of the Missouri Pacific railroad, said last night that the identity of the robbers who held up Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 8 Friday night had been definitely established. Their arrest is expected today in the northern part of St. Louis county.

The names of the men were learned through clues furnished by a sweetheart of one of them, the tie hacker who witnessed the hold-up from behind a bush and an article found in the boat, which, it has turned out, was used by the men when they were making their "getaway."

"We have plenty of men at work," said Chief Eames. "They are thoroughly searching the northern part of the county, where we expect to find the men, whose identity is known to us, and we feel that we will locate them with little trouble."

Last night Chief Gillaspay received a long distance telephone message from a man, giving the name of Ellis, and claiming to be station agent at Matson, Mo., who said he had two of the bandits locked up in a box car and was holding them for the officers.

Gillaspay told the man to call up Sheriff Grueninger, at Clayton. It was impossible last night to get in communication with Matson, which is a switch on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, two stations from St. Charles.
Chief Calls Story Probable.

When told of the message Chief Eames said that it was very probable that the men were in the vicinity of Matson, as his men were working in that neighborhood. There were many reports throughout the day from persons who claimed they either had clews or had seen the robbers.

One woman telephoned Sheriff Grueninger that the trio was west of Clayton on the Rock Island track.
A hurried trip disclosed three tramps there, who proved themselves not the men wanted. They were told to leave the county.

The 18-year-old girl near Eureka, who talked to Deputy Constable Schoenlein and Charles Lehman, special agent for the Missouri Pacific, gave the men a clew which, it is claimed, will lead to the arrest of the trio. The tie hacker, who was a silent and scared spectator to the hold-up, settled the question of the number of men engaged in the enterprise, as three.

Article Found Kept Secret.

What the article was the men stole from Captain Schaaf and lost in the boat Chief Eames refuses to say. He says, however, it is the clew which absolutely determines the identity of the robbers, regardless of any other clew.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Sturdy, who was again at work yesterday in the vicinity of the hold-up, said both the government and railroad detectives had deserted that locality and were working elsewhere.

One theory advanced by an official is that one of the robbers is a man who is wanted in St. Charles on a charge of murder. He escaped from custody five years ago and is supposed to be living in the neighborhood of Eureka.

His description is said to fit the leader of the gang. A friend of this man also is said to be connected with the robbery.

TOOK HIS PICTURE

MR. WILLIAM LATOUR DID AND WILL DELIVER IT IN HOLY LAND.

A LIKENESS OF LOUIS LEVOVITZ

He is a Machinist at the Missouri Pacific Shops and Was Born in Jerusalem—Picture Is for His Father.

It's seldom that a photographer takes a picture and then delivers it to the desired party in Jerusalem, but that will be the experience of William Latour, who, with his wife, leaves tomorrow for New York City, prior to sailing on his European tour.

Louis Levovitz, a Missouri Pacific machinist, residing here, who was born in Jerusalem, and who has been in this country for the past six years, on learning that Mr. Latour and wife intended touring Europe, including Egypt, requested that a photograph of him be taken.

A part of the contract, however, is that Mr. Latour deliver in person the photograph to Mr. Levovitz's father, who is a forist in Jerusalem. This Mr. Latour agreed to do.

A photograph of Mr. Levovitz was taken last week, and was packed today. It will be taken as a part of Mr. Latour's baggage, and on his arrival in Egypt he will proceed to Jerusalem, where he will deliver the picture to the young man's father.

Mr. Levovitz furnished Mr. Latour with a letter of introduction to prominent people living in Jerusalem—infact, four letters, one in Arabic, another in German, a third in French and another in English.

These letters Mr. Latour will take with him on his trip.

Young Levovitz is well known in this city and has invented two devices, upon which he has applied for patents.

WILL WED TOMORROW

Colorado Mechanic Comes to Sedalia for His Bride.

C. W. Swick, a sheet metal worker of Glenwood Springs, Colo., and Miss Alice C. Niederhelm, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niederhelm, of 1502 South Ohio avenue, will be united in marriage at the home of the parents of the bride-to-be at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Rev. John Gidden will be the officiating divine. The bridal couple will remain in Sedalia until the latter part of February, when they will go to Glenwood Springs to reside.

Can't Be Moved for Two Weeks.

Misses Mary and Helen McGinley returned Monday morning from a two days' visit at the state capital with their brother, Francis, who is at St.
Mary's hospital with a broken leg, the result of a coasting accident there on January 9. The young man is getting along nicely, but it will be at least two weeks before he can be brought home.

DIED OF PARALYSIS

MRS. THOMAS G. PRICE, WHO FOR SEVERAL YEARS RESID-ED IN SEDALIA.

HUSBAND WAS ONCE CONSTABLE

Found Unconscious on the Floor at Her Home in Romona, Ok., January 17, and Died of Paralysis Soon Afterward.

The death of Mrs. Thomas G. Price, wife of a former constable of Sedalia township, and prior to that manager of the Van Noy news stand at the Missouri Pacific station, was written of as follows in the Romona, Okla., Herald of Jan. 21:

"This community was shocked on Tuesday morning of this week to learn of the sudden death of Mrs.
Thomas G. Price, which occurred about midnight.

Mrs. Price had spent the afternoon at the store with her husband, returning home about 5 o'clock. Mr.
Price arrived home about an hour later and found his wife prostrate on the floor, unconscious. She never regained consciousness, and quietly passed away several hours later. She had suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Three years ago Mrs. Price had a severe stroke, and only about a year ago suffered from a severe hemorrhage of the nose, which only saved her from a second stroke at that time. On the day of her death she had been feeling exceptionally well.

Mrs. Price was a good, christian woman and will be missed in this community, where she was known as a kind neighbor and loving wife. She was a member of the Baptist church at this place, and was an earnest church worker. A husband is left to mourn her demise.

Short funeral services were held at the house Wednesday morning, conducted by Rev. Rich. of the Christian church, and the body was taken to Bartlesville, where funeral services were held and the body interred in Bartlesville cemetery.

The following Odd Fellows acted as pall-bearers, accompanying the body to Bartlesville: Messrs. W. C. Cobleigh, H. B. Jones, A. H. Donaldson,

J. W. Bandel, George Garrett and Mr.
Avery.

Called by Her Mother's Death.

Mrs. Lydia S. Moore, of 612 West Fourth street, was summoned to Tipton Sunday by the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Donley, who died from dropsy there Sunday morning, aged about 55 years. Her husband, the late Judge Jacob Donley, was a member of the county court for several years.

Deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. M. E. Monks, of the same place, four daughters and a son. The funeral and burial services will be held there.

JOPLIN TO GO DRY?

THIS IS THE QUESTION THAT

DAY, JANUARY 27.

THE FEELING THERE IS INTENSE

Local Option May Mean a Thirst for One Hundred and Fifty Thousand—Eight Hours of Supplcation by 10,000 Women.

Joplin is in the throes of a local option fight, such as Sedalia has experienced, and the battle of the ballots the 27th inst. promises to be the most exciting in the city's history. A Joplin dispatch in the Kansas City Journal of Sunday is as follows:

Ten thousand women in Joplin Webb City, Carthage and Jasper county prayed eight hours today for the four cities and the conta to go "dry" at the local option elections to be held soon. Church bells tolled every half hour in Webb City, calling upon those who had to remain at home to offer supplication for the success of the campaign against the "wets."

The world's greatest zinc and lead mining district is a house divided in itself. Business virtually is at a standstill pending the outcome of the local option campaign inaugurated a

DEATH OF A MISER

AN AGED SHOEMAKER IS FOUND DEAD IN A SQUALID ROOM IN KANSAS CITY.

$15,000 IN BOX USED AS PILLOW

Lived Friendless and Alone—Said to a Friend That He Was Ill and Would See a Doctor but for Expense.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 24.—His head pillowed on a cash box containing $15,000 worth of negotiable securities, mostly government bonds and money orders, Oscar Schoen, a retired shoemaker, 70 years old, was found dead in a squalid room yesterday.

The old man's hand clutched a half emptied vial of morphine tablets, while at his side lay a loaded revolver.
One of the cartridges had been snapped, but had failed to explode.

Coroner Harry Czarlinsky stated that death was due to morphine poisoning, whether taken as an overdose or with suicidal intent he was unable to state.

Although Schoen had occupied the room for more than two years, little was known about him by the landlord. He was last seen alive by the janitor on Thursday morning, whom he told that he was feeling sick and that were it not for the expense he would visit a doctor.

Schoen's will was found in an old pocketbook. By its provisions all his property is bequeathed to relatives by the name of Coetz living at Kempville, Ill. Charles A. Schoen, a brother, at Darlington, Ind., was named as executor.

THE K. OF F. M. MET SUNDAY

Officers-Elect Are Installed—To Arrange an Entertainment.

The regular monthly meeting of St.
Vincent de Paul council No. 38, Knights of Father Matthew, was held at their hall yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Rev. B. R. McNamee conducted the installation ceremonies, all of the officers-elect except two being duly installed.

A committee of five was appointed to assist Orator Thomas Fleming in arranging for an entertainment for the members and their friends.

After the routine business was transacted refreshments of sandwiches, candies and cigars were served to the members.

Editor Visited Here Sunday.

C. L. Hobart, publisher of The Holden Progress, which he says
"Covers Western Johnson county like a blanket," was a Sunday visitor in Sedalia and returned home on the afternoon train.

Mr. Hobart is one of the progressive country editors of the state, and he issues a truly readable newspaper fifty-two weeks each year. He has the right idea, too, and that is that any country weekly that is worthy of perusal at all is worth $1.50 a year instead of $1.

HEART DISEASE KILLS DEMO-CRATIC POLITICIAN ON THE SABBATH.

LOUIS L. WILLIAMS, OF BOONVILLE

Was Alaska Commissioner and Also Served as Marshal for Territory —Will Be Buried Today at Home in Boonville.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 24.—Louis L.
Williams, of Boonville, Mo., brother of Walter Williams, head of the department of Journalism at Missouri university, and W. M. Williams, of Boonville, formerly judge of the Missouri supreme court, died of a heart stroke early Sunday morning in his room at the American hotel. He had been in the city a few days for medical treatment. The end came almost without warning, Mr. Williams being dead before the arrival of a physician.
He was 55 years old.

His nephew, Roy D. Williams, an attorney of Boonville, who arrived in the city yesterday, took the body to Boonville last night. The funeral will take place at 2:30 this afternoon at Boonville. Services will be held by Rev. E. F. Abbot, of the Presbyterian church of Boonville. Burial will be in Walnut Grove cemetery.

Williams was United States commissioner to Alaska during President Cleveland's administration, and United States marshal of the Territory of Alaska, as well as chairman of the democratic national committee from Alaska. He occupied the latter position from 1896 to 1908. He was for a time municipal judge of Juneau, Alaska.

Of late he had been retired from business and was trying to regain his health. He was well known in democratic political circles. He married a Miss M. Spahr, of Boonville, twenty-one years ago, and she survives him.
He has only one daughter, Mary. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs.
H. B. Barks, wife of a Presbyterian minister at Columbia, Mo., and Mrs.
Sue Lamkin, of Clinton, Mo.

DEATH OF J. T. TAYLOR

Remains to Be Brought to Sedalia
This Afternoon.

J. T. Taylor, a carpenter and contractor, formerly of Sedalia, but for the past nine years a resident of Kansas City, Kas., died at his home there at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Deceased leaves a widow, four sons, among them being John F. Taylor, of this city, five brothers and two sisters. One of the brothers, William, also a sister, Mrs. J. M. Logan, reside here.

The Rev. J. S. Myers, a former Sedalia minister, conducted funeral services at the home in Kansas City this morning.

The remains will arrive here at 4:25 o'clock this afternoon and be taken to the home of the sister, 616 West Fifth street, where the Rev. A.
W. Kokendoff pastor of the First Christian church, of which Mr. Taylor was a member, will conduct funeral services at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

KEPT MARRIAGE SECRET

Cousin of Mrs. H. W. Wood, Who Is Visiting in Sedalia.

Miss Minnie Ashenfelter, of Me-chanicsburg, Pa., who has been and still is visiting her cousin, Mrs. H. W.
Wood, wife of the owner of Wood's opera house, is in reality Mrs. Roy L. Krall, according to news received by Mrs. Wood today.

The young lady has been visiting Sedalia relatives and kept the news of her marriage a secret. Today Mrs.
Wood received a copy of the Patriot, published at Harrisburg, Pa., on Saturday, January 22, giving the following account of the young lady's marriage last July:

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Minnie Ashenfelter, of Mechanicsburg, and Roy L.
Krall, of 2305 North Sixth street, last July in Wilmington, Del. The marriage was kept secret, as Miss Ashenfelter intended spending the winter in Missouri with relatives and Mr.
Krall had his senior year in college before him. Mrs. Krall will soon join her husband.

IMPROVEMENT IN ELECTION METHODS.

Declaring that there is a just and widespread demand for improvement in election methods, Governor Hughes, in his annual message to the New York legislature, suggests a system by which, he believes, better results, meaning thereby better government, would be secured.

He asserts that the ends of democracy can best be attained by reducing the number of elective officials.
In the state he would have the governor and lieutenant governor elective.
Other state officers—state treasurer, secretary of state, attorney general and similar state officials—he would have appointive by the governor, who would thus surround himself with a cabinet whose official integrity and efficiency he would guarantee to the people. Such a system, it is suggested, would be analogous to that in the federal government, and there is a resemblance in some respects to the practice in Wisconsin.

In this state a number of department heads and administrative officials are appointed by the governor.
This appointive power is modified to a degree by the need of senate approval, but there is an even more vital difference from the Hughes idea of a cabinet co-operating with the executive. Wisconsin's governor has the appointive power, but he must appoint for a fixed term, and once having appointed has no subsequent control over the appointee. He can not compel co-operation or insure official good behavior. He is without the power of removal, and once in office his appointee, supposedly a member of his official family, is independent of him.

The New York governor's plan implies that the terms of appointive administrative officials shall end with that of the governor. In New Jersey some officials may be and are appointed under conditions that make their terms exceed not only that of the governor, but of his immediate successor.

Manifestly, it would be absurd to hold a governor responsible for the administrative shortcomings on the part of men appointed by his predecessor, and whose reappointment or retirement is a matter for his successor.

Governor Hughes argues that the extension of the appointive system focuses the attention of the voters on fewer offices, "the incumbents of which can be held strictly accountable for administration." This implies a method of making the appointive officials amenable to the appointive head, if the appointing official is to be held to account by the people.

The advantages to be gained by reducing the number of elective officials in the state, as well as in municipal government, are not imaginary. The evil of the present system, whereby so many candidates are presented for the voters' consideration, is that the ballot becomes a mere list of names, the greater part of which he accepts or rejects blindly, exercising intelligent personal choice only in the case of conspicuous offices.

ARKANSAS AWAKENS.

Within a day's ride of St. Louis, New Orleans or Kansas City, the principal centers of the Mississippi valley, lies the Cinderella of the states. While her sisters have been to the ball, while the other states have been gathering in the plaudits of the world and the dollars of the young men and women marching westward, Arkansas has remained at home and unsung.

Unlike the fabled Cinderella, says an article in the Technical World Magazine, this modern duster of the hearth was not discovered and carried away to the palace in a golden coach by a handsome prince to find her dainty foot fitted to the magic crystal slipper. While attending to her work at home, Arkansas found that her hills in the Ozarks region pearls and diamonds in the ashes; would raise, under proper care, the most royal red apples that kings have tasted; that her clay hills in the back yard could, by the alchemy of trade, be turned into pie plates, pin trays or the aluminum frame of an aeroplane; that her already large cotton crops could be doubled in quality and quantity; that the erstwhile worthless gumbo land in certain districts could be made to produce year after year, with increasing volume, the finest grade of rice the market has yet known.

THE CALL OF THE GOOD.

The world is full of men who would help others in a charitable or religious way, but do not know how to go about it. They are willing to give their money if they knew the actual need, or to lend a hand if the object of their care would be really benefited.

In lieu of a definite call to duty, in which one may have absolute confidence, there is a suggestion to be made, which is that a manly, upright, hopeful, righteous life is itself a powerful promoter of good in a community.

A New York magistrate has decided that a wife has no right to the tyrannical sequestration of her husband's sealed pay envelope. Yet other judicial decisions have upheld the right of a wife to go through her husband's pockets. Perhaps the latter decision was merely a clever subterfuge to make the wives contented with the marital firm's wealth overflow.

ferts to counterfeit Michael Angelo,

Deafness cannot be cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube, now inflamed, can have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Suffer Cure. Send for

WM. COURTNEY.

business training was in the dry goods line, under the late Chris Hye. Later, Mr. Andler was connected with the Sedalia National bank, resigning his position there to manage the only ice plant in the city at that time, in which Mr. Hye was the principal stockholder.

Mr. Andler is, without question, one of Sedalia's shrewdest young business men. While never in any manner connected with the liquor business, he was chosen by the "wets" in the recent local option fight in Sedalia to manage their campaign, and to his executive ability more than to any other one cause can be attributed the victory that perched upon the banner of the liquor interests.

Those were troublous times, truly, but Mr. Andler was never found wanting. With nearly thirty saloon men and their advocates advising him, Mr. Andler listened with patience to all, and then acted as he himself thought best. Had he heeded even a small portion of the advice given by some of the lot heads whose campaign he was managing there is scarcely a doubt that his cause would have suffered ignominious defeat.

Having served most acceptably as city treasurer and member of the council, and knowing as well as any man within the corporate limits of the city its needs in every department, Mr. Andler is possessed of the ability and progressive spirit to bring about the desired results, in consequence of which I am firm in the belief that he would make a record never surpassed by any previous mayor.

If the two "Eds," each popular with all classes, should be the nominees of their respective parties in a city that voted "wet" a year ago last June by several hundred majority, the campaign would be one of the most exciting in Sedalia's history, and the property owners would have the satisfaction of knowing that their interests would be well looked after, no matter the one selected.—Sedalian.

Ain't It Awful, Mabel?

A hot local option campaign is in progress in a certain Missouri town, says an exchange, and there is considerable feeling in regard to the matter on both sides. The other day, after a barber had finished shaving a customer, applied the powder to his face and was getting him in pretty good shape, he ran his fingers through the man's hair and asked: "Wet or dry?" "It's none of your business," was the angry retort of the customer, who thought the barber had reference to the local option question.

Langendorff.

Do the people of Sedalia realize that they will have the privilege of hearing on the night of February 2d at the Sedalia theater one of the greatest contraltos that has ever toured America? Mme. Langendorff has sung with great success in the principal cities of Europe and America. She is of the Schumann-Heink style and holds her audiences spellbound wherever she sings. The best critics are enthusiastic about her grand voice, beautiful and artistic singing.

Mr. Isaac N. Farris has made it possible for Sedalians to hear this noted singer at less than half the usual price charged. As Mme. Langen-dorff has been singing to crowded houses throughout her American tour it is to be hoped that Sedalia will do as well as other cities and greet her with a large audience.

Use Water for Power.

Cainsville, Mo., Jan. 24.—About two years ago the Cainsville Milling company decided that there was a lot of available water power going to waste near the mill and decided to make use of it.

Arrangements have just been completed making it possible for the company to dispense with a gasoline engine which has been used for several years and use water power instead.

A number of other improvements have been made at the mill, which is one of the leading institutions at Cainsville.

It is a dangerous thing to take a cough medicine containing opiates that merely stifle your cough instead of curing it. Foley's Honey and Tar loosens and cures the cough and expels the poisonous germs, thus preventing pneumonia and consumption.
Refuse substitutes and take only the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the

REVENGE OF THE WETS

Tried to Start a Run on a Bank, but Failed.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio, Jan. 24.—A defined plan to ruin the Citizens' Savings bank failed here Friday.

Prosecutor Newell, who issued a drastic order to enforce the Rosa law, was a director of the bank. An effort was made to start a run on the bank in revenge. A number of "wet" farmers participated.

Newell resigned as director yesterday and disposed of his stock. All the banks in the county fortified the Citizens' bank with funds, and many "drys" made deposits and no serious inconvenience to the bank resulted.

Will Regulate Bill Boards.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Jan. 24.—A number of people in Excelsior Springs are of the opinion that bill boards are not pleasing to look at and that they should be abolished, if possible, or at least the parties following the profession of bill posting ought to be made to pay a license for the privilege.

Therefore an ordinance is to be introduced at the next meeting of the city council providing that a tax be imposed and also regulating the size and location of bill boards.

The matter was considered at a recent meeting of the council, but final action was deferred until the next meeting.

A WONDER THAT HAS PUZZLED MANY

There are many people that are greatly puzzled over the wonderful effects of Root Juice. When this new medicine was first introduced it was generally thought that a new fake was born to die in a short time. But as time passed and so many testimonials are pouring in from all over the country from people who had given up hope of ever seeing another well day, and neighbor is telling neighbor of some great good received from the use of Root Juice. Many people are wondering why this great remedy was not discovered years ago. What a great boon to human kind is a remedy like Root Juice, a combination of nature's drugs that soothes and heals and ones the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. How sweet is health and how wonderful are the many cures that Root Juice has made of rheumatism, catarrh, indigestion, female weakness and other troubles of the digestive and secretory organs. Those who wish to learn of this great remedy should go to Wilcox's drug store.

TOM BUTTS' STORY

WAS IN CHARGE OF A MISSOURI PACIFIC TRAIN THAT WAS HELD UP.

HE NARRATES WHAT TOOK PLACE

A Signed Statement in the St. Louis Republic—Engineer Lister Has Like Story in the St. Louis Daily Star.

Conductor "Tom" C. Butts, who was in charge of Missouri Pacific train No. 8 when it was held up and robbed near Glencoe, Mo., last Friday night, had the following signed account of the robbery in the St. Louis Republic of Sunday:

We left Pacific at 9:32 p. m., Friday, twelve minutes late, and were going along at a good clip, about a mile and a half east of Eureka, when the train began to slow up. No orders had been received for any place before we reached Valley Park, and I immediately went to the front of the smoker to see what was the matter. Before I could get to the front the train came to a stop and then started up again.

By the time I reached the smoker the train was at a stop and I stepped on the front platform and looked ahead past the baggage and express car toward the engine to see what the trouble was.

As I stuck my head out past the line of cars, several shots were fired from up toward the engine, and I saw a man coming down the track. I immediately went back into the smoker and started to the rear of the train. I knew that there was a hold-up and I told the passengers in the smoker and the first coach to take care of their valuables.

Smokers Thought It a Joke.

Several of the men in the smoker began to josh me about it, but I told them I knew what I was talking about and that probably the robbers would enter the passenger coaches. I was within forty feet of one of the robbers, but I could not see his face in the darkness.

By the time I had walked the length of two cars I again looked forward toward the engine from the side of the train. It had been scarcely a minute since I left the front of the smoker after I heard the shots, but I saw the engine being run on ahead with the two mail cars.

The robbers had uncoupled the engine and mail cars, leaving the express and the baggage with the rest of the train.

I then got off the train and started forward. The next minute the mail clerks came running toward the train, saying there was a hold-up and that three masked men, who entered the mail car, had forced them to get out.

The next minute the engineer and fireman also came up with the same story of being forced to get off the engine. There was an extra engineer on the train who was making his first run. I stood and listened to the engine puffing away for nearly five minutes, hardly knowing what to do.

I then went back to the train and told the passengers about the hold-up and that the robbers had gone. Many by his time had hidden their valuables, but seemed very little excited. There were no children on the train and several ladies in the parlor car in the rear were not as nervous as I imagined they would be.

Boarded Train at Pacific.

I questioned the engineer about how the men got charge of the train. He said that half a mile east of Pacific two masked men crawled over the tender and covered him, the fireman and the extra engineer with revolvers. Apparently, they had gotten on at Pacific.

"Well, take up the time now," ordered one of the men. And the engineer put on more steam. The train went through Eureka at a good clip and about a mile east of the station the robbers ordered a slow down. The train stopped on a small bridge and one of the robbers yelled at the engineer:

"What the h— do you want to stop here for? Don't you see we can't uncouple the cars on this bridge?"

The engineer pulled the train up about half a mile and brought it to a standstill. Then the two robbers ordered all three men off the engine and forced them to walk back toward the mail cars.

While one of the robbers stood guard over the engine crew, three men entered the mail cars and covered the clerks with their pistols and made them get out. The mail cars were then uncoupled, the robber in the engine given the signal, and the engine and mail cars with the four robbers was run off down the track.

The clerks in the express car told me they knew at once what was the matter when they heard the shots, and began throwing the valuable packages in the car behind boxes and trunks. But the robbers did not bother the express car.

Was Roughest Country.

The spot where the hold-up occurred is at the end of a stretch of straight track near a high bluff in a very rough part of St. Louis county, about twenty-eight miles west of St. Louis. The train was stopped directly in front of the home of old man Jennings, whose son was hanged in St. Charles, Mo., some time ago.

I went up the embankment to see if there was any telephone in the Jennings' house, but everything was dark. I then walked back about a mile and a half to Eureka, woke up the station agent and notified the superintendent's office at Jefferson City of the hold-up.

One of the employees of the maintenance of way department of the railway accompanied me on this rough and dark walk over the track to Eureka. I do not remember his name. He was one of a party on the train.

I then walked back to the train to wait for a relief engine. The passengers had resigned themselves to their situation by this time. It was about 10:50 p. m. when I reached Eureka and about 11:30 when I got back to the train. I think it was about 9:46 p. m. when the hold-up occurred.

Freight Engine to Rescue.

A freight engine which followed us into Eureka was sent out to our cars and pushed us into Valley Park, where we arrived about 12:30 Saturday morning. The two Missouri Pacific passenger trains which left union station after 10 p. m. Friday were held at Woodlawn until we passed. It was 2:23 this morning when we finally reached union station.

The two mail cars and engine we found near the Valley Park depot. A large number of registered mail bags had been cut open and the letters opened and scattered about the cars. The men were gone. I am satisfied that at least two of the robbers were or had been railroad men. They knew the country and the handling of an engine and train perfectly. No man but a railroad man could have done the work as they did it.

Train No. 8 carried about forty passengers into St. Louis from Kansas City.

The Engineer's Story.

George Lutes, who had charge of the engine that was pulling train No. 8, had the following signed story in the St. Louis Star of Saturday afternoon:

"Imagine yourself looking into a 38-calibre revolver for fifteen minutes," said Mr. Lutes, "and you can have a faint idea of my feelings."

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

"We had just pulled out of Pacific and No. 8 was a little behind. We had orders to make up time for a siding at Glencoe. I told Slocum to fire up, so I could turn her loose."

"While I was watching the track in front of us, I heard a noise in the tender. In a second Bill and I were looking into two of the prettiest pair of guns I ever saw."

"D— you! Don't make any noise," said the fat man, who ordered me to hold up my hands.

"If you fellows do as we tell you, we won't hurt you."

"At first I did not realize that we were being held up, but I got onto myself in a minute, and I believed in the old adage of self preservation."

"The two robbers then said: 'You fellows listen to our orders,' and you can bet they knew their business."

"They heard me call my fireman Bill, and one said, 'Bill, we want this train stopped on a good piece of track."

"Slack her up now; this looks good to me," remarked the other.

"Cut off the steam and dash the glimmer," meaning the electric headlight.

"We obeyed orders all right."

"Then one of the said: 'We want to uncouple the train from the mail car.'

"We had gone about a quarter of a mile then."

"While we were uncoupling the mail car one of the men gave instructions to me: 'Back her up a little—now go forward a little,' and I said: 'Old Scout, you know your business.'

"You bet I do," he said.

"When the mail car was uncoupled we were ordered to pull out, and we obeyed instructions."

"I said, 'Boys, you know we have orders to stop at Glencoe,' and they both said at once, 'To h— with Glencoe—keep her going,' and we did."

"After we had gone some distance the robbers entered the mail car and ordered the clerks to throw up their hands, and they also obeyed instructions."

"One of the gang then ordered all of us up the track."

"You fellows, every d—n one of you, go back to the train, and the first man that takes his hands down will get a piece of lead."

"You ought to have seen us walking ties. The mail clerks kept their hands up till they got to the train proper, but my hands got cold and I put them in my pocket."

"When we got back to the train the conductor, Butts, had wired the news to various points."

"About half an hour later I suggested to Slocum that we had better look up the engine, and I took a railroad bicycle. I rode part of the way, but my wheel made so much noise that I decided to walk."

"Finally I found her, and she was as dead as a door nail. The fire was out and the steam dead. I got home Saturday morning, and you bet I had a night of it."

Cabmen Raise Prices.

Moberly, Mo., Jan. 24.—Along with the other fellows who are hiking up prices for all kinds of commodities are found the cabmen in Moberly, who have announced a new schedule of prices, and the prices have been advanced, of course.

If you only want to ride nine blocks they will haul you for 25 cents, but in case you exceed the nine-block limit the charge will be 50 cents. In the past the 25-cent fare has been in order to all parts of the city. The cabmen say that in order to keep even it is necessary for them to make more money.

Lulu's Case Today.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 24.—Lulu Jackson, the negress who emptied a house on Clay street with one shot from a revolver when she saw a party in progress to which she had not been invited, will be tried in Justice Stockton's court today.

A number of Lulu's friends were having a gay old time one night recently when suddenly a shot from a revolver in their near vicinity broke up the party in a rather unceremonious manner.

Upon investigation it was discovered that Lulu became "sore" because she was not invited to the "doins" and decided to have a little gun party on her own account.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful, gently, though safely, is surely equalizing the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruse your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense. We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

SAVED 15 FROM DEATH

Crew and Captain's Wife Ten Hours in Rigging of Doomed Vessel.

Edgartown, Mass., Jan. 24.—The six-masted schooner Mortie H. Crowley is a total wreck on the reefs off Martha Vineyard island. The Crowley was bound from Baltimore to Boston, with coal.

To the bravery of Skipper Levi Jackson of the Edgartown fishing smack Priscilla is due the rescue of the fifteen persons aboard the Crowley, Captain Haskell, Mrs. Haskell and the crew of thirteen. The skipper's wife, like the others, was lashed for ten hours to the rigging of the battered schooner.

The schooner went on the rocks at 5:30 this morning, the men at the wheel making out Edgartown light as that on Black Island. At 10 o'clock a. m. the Crowley broke in two beneath the crew. Efforts were made to get out to the Crowley in the forenoon, but were unsuccessful because of the great seas.

Captain Jackson late this afternoon finally reached the wreck. There he anchored and four dories, manned by as many fishermen, took off the crew of the Crowley.

MELODRAMA IS TO GO

Moving Pictures to Supersede It in Forty Cities.

Cincinnati, Jan. 24.—That they will change their attractions from melodrama to motion pictures and 5 and 10 cent vaudeville in forty cities in this country, was the assertion made here yesterday by John H. Havlin and Col. James E. Fennessey, owners of a majority of the Staur-Havlin theatrical interests.

Both men say that melodrama has outworn its popularity for several years, and that the success of a theater here making this change has prompted them to do the same in other cities.

One of their first moves will be in St. Louis. Col. Fennessey, general manager in Cincinnati for the Houcks Opera House Co., which controls five theaters here, says: "I have found moving pictures, interspersed with a few vaudeville acts, at a cost to patrons of 5 to 10 cents, to be far the best paying stage material today."

"So many of the dramas are being written by people who don't know how to construct good stage heroes that they are becoming tiresome."

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market today.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Girl From the U. S. A." "The Girl From the U. S. A." the coming attraction at the Sedalia theater Friday night, is a joyous creation, and something new in stageland. The Girl goes tantalizingly light-hearted into delicious entanglements that keep the action of the play splendidly melodramatic. The clean fine atmosphere of the production is most wholesome and welcome. The heart interest is deep and natural. There is a triangle love affair and the story of the play contains several social astonishments that are delightfully artful, yet genuine episodes of real life.

Great attention has been given to make the stage settings as elaborate and splendid as possible. The musical settings for the play are original and from the pen of a prominent composer, but the numbers are the late successes of the day.

month ago at the suggestion of the Rev. "Billy" Sunday.

Labor leaders have forgotten anti-meet and anti-egg movements in their anxiety to poll a sweeping wet vote. Clergymen are conducting nightly revivals at every church in Jasper county in the interest of local opinion.

But the culmination was reached yesterday when 6,000 women at the tabernacle adopted a resolution boycotting business houses that were "wet."

"Stand by the merchants who stand by our cause" is the slogan in temperance households.

"Women of Joplin, pause a moment in your misguided enthusiasm," were the flaring headlines in a newspaper advertisement inserted by the citizens' committee against local option.

"The advice to boycott means coercion; it spells tyranny, and, if followed to its final analysis, means bitter heart throbs and breaking of family ties."

The warning was signed by 100 citizens of the committee, among whom were the presidents of four banks and several wealthy mine operators.

And now arises the question of bribes. Local option advocates charge that the liquor interests will buy votes. The Rev. "Billy" Sunday declared St. Louis brewers had sent five men into the mining district to spend one million dollars to keep Jasper county, with its 150,000 population, from going dry. His assertion was challenged by a morning newspaper, and although the evangelist reiterated it before 6,000 hearers, he made no effort to divulge the source of his information.

Bribes, did you say? The wets want to know, in display advertisements, what free chicken dinners, served by women on election day to dry voters, constitute, if not a bribe.

School children will march through the streets of Joplin Thursday, waving the star-spangled banner and the white insignia of temperance. Women will patrol the avenues leading to the voting booths, button-hole every voter they think is not dry and begin a whirlwind finish of their campaign. Every night in Convention hall the wets are holding overflow meetings. Clarence Darrow, of Chicago, who defended Pettibone and Moyer against the accusations of Harry Orchard in the famous trials of the western miners, spoke tonight against a dry Joplin.

Harvey C. Lawrence, of Kansas City, spoke last night for the wets. Vernon Rose, former chief of police of Kansas City, Kan., will speak tomorrow night; W. W. Rose, former mayor of Kansas City, Kan., will speak Monday night, and W. M. Cardwell, of Oklahoma City, Tuesday night. The wets have made their campaign on the conditions in Kansas City, Kan., since that city has been voted dry.

For the dries the chief speakers are Myron A. Waterman, of Kansas City, Kan., and Seaborn Wright, "the man who made Georgia dry."

Almost every citizen of Jasper county says the result hinges upon the election in Joplin. If Joplin, with its 50,000 population, goes dry, so will Webb City, with its 18,000 population; Cartersville, with its 4,000; Carthage, with its 16,000, and the other nineteen towns in Jasper county, with a combined population of 62,000. Joplin will vote Thursday, Webb City a week from Tuesday, and Carthage, Cartersville and Jasper county a week from Thursday.

THE FOOD IN BEANS

THERE IS MUCH MORE THAN IN THE CHOICEST CUTS OF FRESH MEATS.

AND COST NOT NEARLY SO LARGE

Dr. W. P. Cutler, State Food Commissioner, Says Poor People Do Not Know How to Purchase and Gives Some Hints.

When a man reaches middle life, thinks Dr. William P. Cutler, state pure food and drug commissioner of Columbia, who is in the city, he should give up eating meat, says the Kansas City Journal. If he would do this, he would prolong his life from five to ten years. As a substitute for meat, Dr. Cutler recommends beans, eggs, nuts and milk.

According to Dr. Cutler, the poor people do not know how to order meat. They buy prierhouse steaks and sirloins, instead of chuck steak. Instead of the high priced roasts and steaks, cheap pot roasts and neck and "plate" cuts should be bought.

"In these cheaper cuts there is more nourishment and more flavor than in the higher priced meat," said Dr. Cutler. "A chuck steak at 8 cents a pound has a larger amount of proteins, or nourishment, than the same amount of porterhouse steak, at 30 cents a pound. A sirloin steak at 27 cents a pound has even less nourishment in it than a chuck steak or a porterhouse."

"The trouble with the poor people is that they think they are getting the best when they pay the highest prices. I have seen women order a 5-cent porterhouse. If they had bought that much chuck steak, it would have done twice or three times as much good."

"A shoulder 'clod' at 12½ cents a pound makes a good pot roast. Plate meat at 8 or 10 cents makes a better soup and has more nourishment than more expensive cuts. People will not buy chuck steak because they have been educated to porterhouse. From my own experience I know that this cheaper meat is more nutritious and better flavored than the high priced cuts."

"Meat eating is a modern form of cannibalism. People could get along much better without it. Meat is eaten for the proteins. There is more nutrition in beans, cowpeas and the like than there is in flesh. Nuts, eggs and milk also supply these proteins, but in less quantity than meat or beans."

"Bread and milk would make a good substitute for meats. I had a cousin, a farmer, who did not eat anything but bread and milk until he was 18 years of age, and he is now the strongest and biggest member of the family."

"One trouble with Americans is that we eat just three times too much food. We would be just as healthy and feel much better if we ate one meal a day instead of three. It's all habit. The same is true of

MUSICAL COLLECTION

Edison Records for February Are Especially Attractive.

An imposing array of artists who contribute to the February lists of Edison records ought to go a long way towards disabusing any popular misconception of the musical value of the Phonograph. Some idea of what the National Phonograph company is expending on its catalogue will be suggested by the names of the talent. In the instrumental line the Amberol (four-minute) list offers Victor Herbert and his orchestra in "Rose of the World," the tuncful number of his brilliant opera, "Algeria," Sousa's band in the well known "Benediction of the Poignards," from Meyerbeer's "The Huguenots," the United States Marine band in "The Rifle Regiment March," the New York Military band in "In Cairo—Oriental Patrol," Froisni, the accordion wizard, in the delightful "Amoureuse" waltz, and the American Symphony orchestra in "Forsetta-Tarantella," an Italian dance number, and "The Darkies' Jubilee," a descriptive selection in which is reproduced, with the assistance of singers, dancers and novel effects, a darkey jubilee on a Mississippi levee.

The vocal contributions include "My Pretty Little Piece of Dresden China," a charming conceit by Bessie Wynn; "Hello, Mr. Moonman, Hello!" by Harvey Hindermyer, tenor; "If I Had the World to Give You," by Reed Miller, tenor; "Juanita," by the Metropolitan quartette; the Prologue from "Pagliacci," baritone solo, sung in English by Thomas Chalmers; "I'm Glad I'm a Boy and I'm Glad I'm a Girl," a conversational duet from "The Follies of 1909," by Ada Jones and Billy Murray; "Ireland Isn't Ireland Any More," a comic song by Edward M. Favor, and other comic, sentimental and sacred selections by the well known staff of Edison artists.

RECEIVED THE STORK

Visits Big Four Train and Leaves a Ten-Pound Boy.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 24.—A stork that rides on railroad trains was discovered Saturday night in Ohio by H. F. Blakely, conductor of the Big Four train which arrived in St. Louis at 7:30 Sunday morning.

Mrs. Benjamin Burton, of Gallico, O., boarded the train at Cleveland and settled in a Pullman seat for the two hours' ride to her home. No one was with her but the stork, who made his presence known before the train had pulled out of the Cleveland yards.

The coming of the bird was so swift that there was no time to get into the Pullman. Mrs. Burton, however, was not alarmed, and she and the stork remained in the Pullman until the train had pulled out of the Cleveland yards.

TWO TRAINS OF ACTORS

They Pause at Moberly, So That Greetings May Be Exchanged.

Moberly Sunday morning at 4:30 was treated to a sight possibly never seen before in that sedate town, says the Globe-Democrat of Monday. Two special trains, each bearing several car loads of chorus girls under management of the Shuberts, passed each other at that station, and by arrangement both stopped that the two companies might greet each other for a moment.

The two companies were the Eddie Foy company, which had just closed a week here and was booked for the Shubert theater in Kansas City at night, and the Marie Dressler company, which left Kansas City to open here last night in Tillie's Nightmare.

The train bearing the Marie Dressler company will also make another special stop at St. Charles, Mo., to take on one passenger, Dan Fischel, manager of the Garlick theater, who has to catch the train in order to make arrangements for a rehearsal of

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 24.—A tele-

San Francisco police department asks if Givens Brogan is wanted here and how much reward has been offered for his arrest.

Illinois state had offered $200 and this county $100 for the arrest of Brogan, who disappeared from here shortly after A. J. Magill was slain in his postal card photograph gallery here last July.

Nobody saw Brogan leave the gal-killing saw it indistinctly through a window across the street.

The day of the killing Brogan returned home an hour after he had started for work and quarreled with his wife about Magill. Then Brogan

GETS $500 FOR BEATING

Farmers Quarreled Because of Hogs Getting Into Corn.

Mexico, Mo., Jan. 24.—The jury in the case of Frank Jennings against Bell J. Appleman for damages as the result of an assault upon the former by the latter, brought in a verdict late Saturday night for $550 for the plaintiff, who sued for $15,000.

The principals in the case are both farmers of this county and live near Jennings in Saline township. Appleman's hogs are alleged to have gotten into Jennings' corn, and the latter took them up and held them till the owner came for them and settled for the corn eaten and damaged by his hogs.

This led up to a row and after the amount asked by Jennings was paid, more words passed and the result was that Appleman, a young man, is

MIDDIES ARE DISMISSED

Taft Approves Suspensions—One Mis-souriian Is Included.

Washington, Jan. 24.—President Taft has approved the recommendation of Capt. John M. Bowyer, superintendent of the naval academy, dismissing three more midshipmen on the charge of intoxication.

As a result there is suppressed excitement among the midshipmen, who now realize they must walk the straight and narrow path or risk losing their commissions just as they are about to get them.

The three dismissed are first-class men, practically on the eve of graduation. They are James Murray Whitehead, of New Jersey; Scott
Lynn, of Utah, and Grover Cleveland Clevenger, of Missouri.

An extraordinary feature of the case is that these are the very men who recently joined with the other first-class men and proposed to Capt.
Bowyer that they be permitted to work for the prevention of intoxication among the midshipmen.

The bargain was proposed provided Captain Bowyer would not dismiss a midshipman who was charged with over-indulgence in Thanksgiving punch last year.

COLD WAVE DUE TUESDAY

Disturbance Approaching Pacific Coast to Sweep Country.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Cold weather will not visit the eastern half of the United States during the next three days, according to the weather bureau.

It was prophesied last night that the disturbance now approaching the Pacific coast would advance to the Rockies by Tuesday morning; Tuesday and Wednesday it will make its way across the plains and central valley states and reach the Atlantic seaboard about Thursday.

It will be preceded by rising temperature and rain in the southern and snow or rain in the northern states.
Colder weather will reach the plains and central valley states Wednesday, and the Atlantic states Thursday or Friday.

THE SEINE IS RISING

Famous French River Has Nearly Equaled Historic Flood Stage.

Paris, France, Jan. 24.—The flood situation here reached its more critical stage this morning. The Seine river now registers 7½ meters, the highest it has been since 1802, when it raised to almost nine meters, which was the highest point in the history of France, except in 1615. A terrible tempest of rain and wind which is raging only adds to the horror of the situation and to the suffering of the poor and homeless.
The authorities are hopeful this morning that the maximum stage will be reached by nightfall.

more bodies, however, but the rail-

THE USE OF CLUBS

CRITICISM OF POLICE FORCE CAUSES TROUBLES TO TER-RORIZE PEOPLE.

THIS WINTER HAS MADE RECORD

Homely Bread Winning to Claim Gov.
Hughes When His Term Expires
—The High Cost of Living in the Metropolis.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, Jan. 24.—Encouraged by the mayor's mandate against the free use of clubs by the police, thousands of toughs have today begun to terrorize the poorer quarters of the city by outbreaks of lawlessness that the patrolmen are hesitating to quell by force.

The exhibition of a few bruises at the city hall by one crafty member of these rioting gangs might work the undoing of the most conscientious cop, members of the force are arguing, and as a consequence little is being done to control this sudden spread of hoodlumism.

About the beats of Hell's Kitchen, Cherry Hill and the water front only the prompt use of club and pistol has ever made life safe for the police man on night duty, while in all the shadier parts of town the law is respected only on account of the heavy night sticks of its guardians.

Though wanton brutality on the part of many policemen has always marred the brave showing of the force for New Yorkers, no one has yet declared himself ready to sacrifice law and order to inculcating parlor manners to the patrolmen who guard the sleeping city.

Feeding Furnaces.

Thousands of extra tons of fuel are today being ordered by the householders and landlords of Greater New York to meet the snowy siege that this winter of record severity threatens to continue about the island.

Already the heating supplies of skyscrapers as well as suburban cottages are known to be exhausted to a point seldom reached before the end of the winter months. With furnaces to feed full for three long months ahead, every one is frantically making plans to lay in more sinews for the bitter war against the rigors of this severe season.

While the city will spend many millions to fight off the snow that is clogging its streets, its inhabitants will be obliged to pay thousands of dollars for the extra heat with which they must surround themselves.

Hughes' Horoscope.

That plain, homely bread-winning, must claim the services of Governor Hughes after his present term is the consensus of opinion among the governor's former legal associates who are discussing recent rumors of his political retirement here today.

In one year of work at his old trade of lawyer, Hughes could more than make up the $50,000 that it has cost him personally to keep up a governor's establishment at Albany for the last three years, it is calculated.

Big brain work in the legal profession is limited to comparatively few years in any man's life, the lawyers declare, and no man in the governor's position can afford to lose another two years, which might be devoted to providing for his family.

That Governor Hughes will not be permitted to remain forever in the retirement of private life is, however, confidently asserted by his admirers in this town.

Rising Rates.

Higher cost of living and the higher living wage that must consequently be paid to draughtsmen and supervisors are today being assigned by leading architects here as the reasons for the higher percentage of fees that they have just declared as a body.

That more money must now be paid to the men who design their houses as well as to the men who build them at rapidly increasing cost, is being accepted by New Yorkers as one more burden that has been brought by these times of gilt-edged prices for food and clothing.

Never before in its history has Gotham set such prices on every buyable thing, necessity as well as luxury, and yet never has more buying been done. Merchants as well as consumers declare they are at a loss to understand this trend of the times, and the action of the architects has not served to clear up the problem.

Nurses' Names.

Just because no one will call them "Miss," two score nursery maids who were being trained at a children's hospital here, are on a vigorous strike against the institution that would insist on knowing them by their first names.

Though many of these fair strikers came to learn expert nursing from places as servants where they were plain Mary, Jane or Bridget, they are now holding out for the pre-

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

While these proud maids are holding indignation meetings outside the pallings of the hospital fence, however, new nurses are being brought to their old places, and it looks today as though all nurses must forever be called without handles to their names.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. EDITOR IS MISSING

PUBLISHER OF COMMERCIAL AT ROCHEPORT SINCE THE HOLIDAYS.

WAS WET SHEET OF BOONE COUNTY

Took His Departure Before the Date of Awarding a Motor Car in a Contest—His Whereabouts Not Known.

D. C. Bowers, editor of the Rocheport Commercial, a weekly paper published at Rocheport, a small town fourteen miles west of Columbia, has been missing since Christmas, says the University Missourian, published at Columbia. There has been no issue of his paper since that time.

Mr. Bowers started the Commercial little more than a year ago and advertised it as the "wet" sheet of the county. One report says he is in Ohio ill with typhoid fever, while another says he is somewhere in the west.

The Commercial was a four-page paper, printed on a hand press. It is said that his office equipment is held under two mortgages and that the assets of the paper are nothing.

The paper launched a subscription contest with an automobile as the premium. Several girls had made campaigns for subscriptions and had collected money. The paper was discontinued before the date of the close of the contest and the awarding of the motor car.

EZRA KENDALL IS DEAD

Appeared in "The Vinegar Buyer" for Many Seasons.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 24.—Ezra Kendall, comedian, died of apoplexy yesterday in a sanitarium at Martinsville, Ind. The first news of his death received by his friends, save only his immediate family, was when the body was brought to Cleveland last night. Mr. Kendall closed his season in "The Vinegar Buyer" at Seattle three weeks ago because of ill health. It completed his twenty-ninth season on the stage.

He was born in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, forty-nine years ago. At the age of 20 he went on a barnstorming tour. Later he made a success in "We, Us and Company" at the Fifth Avenue theater, New York. For years he was a monologist of renown, but for the past eleven seasons he had used "The Vinegar Buyer" as his vehicle.

He is survived by the widow and six children.

WOULD JAIL "SLAVERS"

Believes Trusts Are Sapping Vitality of United States.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 24.—Discussing the high price of meat, the Rev. Francis H. Scott, of the Calhoun Street Christian church, in a sermon yesterday, said:

"To jail with the oppressors of the poor. There is no civilized country on the globe that is so enslaved and that has its vitality sapped to such a degree as has America by the trusts."

Dr. H. M. Wharton, of the Brantley Baptist church, referring to the meat boycott, said:

"If such a movement does not alarm the trusts and wake up congress, then something else will happen. It is the first muttering of the distant thunder. God save us from the storm."

MAN FROM KANSAS

"ED" HOWE, OF THE ATCHISON GLOBE, TAKEN FOR CONFIDENCE OPERATOR.

HIS EXPERIENCE IN NEW YORK CITY

Editor from the Jayhawker State Tries to Play Good Samaritan But is Viewed With Suspicion in New York.

Atchison, Kas., Jan. 24.—When a Kansas man goes to New York he is on the lookout for confidence men, but it is not often that the Kansan is mistaken for one of these sharks.

However, that is what happened to E. W. Howe, editor of the Atchison Globe, who sailed from New York Saturday for the West Indies. In a letter to the Globe Mr. Howe gives this account of his experience:

This morning while I was in my room at the Waldorf, looking down on the busy scene in the street below, I saw a man who interested me. Evidently he had just arrived from the country and was bewildered, although he was trying to look careless and unconcerned. He carried a little grip he had probably borrowed from his wife, and was smoking a cigar, but I could see the roar of New York was too much for him, as it always is for me. The man amused me so much, and I felt so at home in my room, that I determined to go down and become acquainted with him. So I went out to the elevator. I had learned to get up and down—passed through the crowded lobby of the hotel, crossed the street with some difficulty, and over to where the man from the west was still standing. He saw me coming, and watched me with a good deal of interest.

"Good morning," I said, conscious that I wasn't doing very well, "are you from the west? I am from Kansas."

The man backed from me and regarded me with suspicion.

"Never mind where I'm from," he replied, in answer to my friendly overtures. "I've heard of you New York fellows who claim to be from Kansas, and if you don't go on away, and let me alone, I'll call a policeman."

I was tremendously embarrassed, and no doubt I acted like the confidence man the stranger believed me to be.

"O, I'm all right," I said. "I'm a stranger myself in New York. I can show you letters to prove I'm all right."

"I don't want to see your letters," he said, starting toward a street car which was approaching, but looking back as though he expected me to grab him. He swung on to the platform of the car, while I was still looking foolish, and disappeared.

TOPIC OF DIVORCE

FRANCIS B. LIVESEY, OF CLARKSON, MD., WRITES TO DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL.

CONGRESSMAN MURPHY MEASURE

Desertion and Divorce, Mr. Livesey Says, Result From Our False System of Education—He's Advocate of "Work."

To the Democrat-Sentinel.

Hon. Arthur P. Murphy, republican congressman from Missouri, is before the house with a bill or resolution to restrict divorce. I am as opposed to it as he is, but I say we must of two evils choose the lesser. People who want divorce and cannot get it resort later to murder and suicide sometimes, but more frequently they separate. In fact, too many separate without even seeking divorce, and it is for these I say that divorce should be made easier rather than harder.

The separated, whether male or female, are, to put it mildly, lively people. A town in which I recently lived had it that one separated woman was the ruin of all the boys and young men in the town. The separated, men and women alike, I repeat, are capable of diabolical innumerable, compared to which the oft-repeated divorce is an innocent lambkin.

Cincinnati recently came to the front with those who had separated. The Women's Christian Temperance Union of that city discovered that there had been 2,700 wife desertions in that city alone in three months. It was going to write to President Taft on the situation and call for the same punishment for wife desertion that existed in the navy and army for desertion there—death. Any observing man can anywhere see twenty separated persons to one that is divorced.

But what is the cause of all this desertion, separation and divorce? The Chicago Record-Herald gave a chapter on the subject recently. It was headed, "Divorce Wave Is Laid to Schools by Expert." Miss Ella M. Haas, of Columbus, Ohio, an inspector of workshops, had ample opportunity to see the inner workings of ordinary people's lives, and she concluded that the popular public school education so unfitted girls for the stations of wife and mother that they made husband's lives unbearable, with separation or divorce called for as the result.

I have been uttering this fact for long years myself, and I commend to Mr. Murphy and all others its consideration. If Mr. Murphy can throw out any legislation that will make a more substantial race of young people and a less giddy race, he will attain his end of purifying things matrimonial quite beyond anything he is attempting in the present line. Girls and boys must be brought up to work in their respective lines—that is the bottom of the matter.

London's new lord mayor, Sir John Knill, has come to the conclusion that this thing of work must be revived, and he will make it the especial feature of his administration to see that the apprenticeship system is revived. To do this compulsory education and child labor laws must go, and liberty and labor made the slogan of the masses rather than "study and play," as at present. As the Boston Traveler well says, we want the apprentice removed in this country just as badly as they do in England. So this is the end for Mr. Murphy to begin. The longest way round is the shortest way home.—Francis B. Livesey, Clarkson, Md.

NEIGHBORS WERE GOOD

There Are No Better People on Earth Than Missourians.

Mexico, Jan. 24.—That the Missouri neighbor has not retrograded is instanced by the case of Henry Vance, of this county, who, with every member of his large family, was down with either typhoid fever or pneumonia.

Vance belongs to the Modern Woodmen lodge of Gantt, twelve miles west of this city. When his fraternal brothers learned of his plight they gathered at his home and gathered six acres of corn and put it in his barn for him.

For this reason his stock did not suffer during the recent severe weather and, with good nursing, also furnished by the neighbors and "brothers," the members of the family are all on the road to recovery.

CENSUS MEN'S JOB

REQUIRED TO DO POLITICAL WORK FOR SENATOR WAR-NER'S PARTY.

SUBSTANTIATE MACHINE CHARGES

The Letter is Now in the Hands of Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, and an Investigation May Follow.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—That the enumerators who take the census in Missouri must do political work is shown by the text of a letter sent by Representative Charles A. Crow (Rep.), of the Fourteenth Missouri district to an applicant at Caruthersville, Mo., who sought a position as enumerator.

The letter goes far to substantiate the charge that Senator Warner in appointing the census supervisors, who in turn nominally appoint the enumerators, has used Missouri's share in the enormous fund of $10,000,000, which was appropriated by congress to meet the expenses of compiling the census of 1910 in order to build up a political machine.

In the case with which the letter deals the candidate evidently looked to Representative Crow and not to the local supervisor as the source from which he would get his job.

The Crow letter reads:

"Caruthersville, Mo., 9-9-09. To — Dear Friend: I received your letter and note all you say about being appointed census enumerator.

"Your being a republican is the first qualification, and you are O. K. in that line.

"You will probably be asked to do some extra work, not a part of your regular duty as enumerator, if you are appointed, but it is such work as any enthusiastic republican will be glad to do and will in no way conflict with your duty as enumerator.

"The extra work will be outlined to you before you are appointed, so that you need not accept the appointment if you do not desire to do what will be asked of you.

"You get the indorsement of your county committee, and then if you are willing to do the extra work, I think you will have easy sailing. Yours very truly—C. A. Crow."

The letter is authentic. The original is in possession here of Representative James T. Lloyd, of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee.

The "dear friend," whose name is withheld at this time, did not get the job. Moreover, he thought Mr. Crow was issuing a peculiar brand of instructions, in view of the repeated declarations of President Taft, Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor, and Chief Durand, of the census service, all of whom have taken great pains to say that the census appointments and the census work must be entirely non-partisan.

Therefore the disappointed candidate, to whom Crow wrote as above, before another man was selected as better able to do political work, turned the letter over to a democratic friend who lives in the Fourteenth district. This latter person forwarded it to Mr. Lloyd.

Lloyd makes no comment on it other than to suggest that the public should know whether the supervisor and enumerators who are chosen in the Sixth Missouri district, where a congressional campaign is pending, received the same kind of instructions.

Mr. Lloyd thinks that Secretary
